OneUnited Bank to serve as 2004 Presenting Sponsor of the Los Angeles Black Business Expo and Trade Show

At the recent Sponsor/Exhibitor Networking Gala at Dulan’s, Harold Hambrick, Expo Executive Director, announced that OneUnited Bank, the second largest African American Bank in the country, will take the role of presenting sponsor for the Los Angeles Black Business Expo and Trade Show Sept. 10-12, 2004 at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

OneUnited Bank, where the Expo offices are housed, was established when it combined community banks across the country with the same mission -Founders Bank of Commerce and Family Savings Bank in Los Angeles, Peoples Bank of Commerce in Miami and Boston Bank of Commerce. Each bank had a long and successful history of serving urban communities but once combined created the fastest growing and premier bank in America serving urban communities.

Kevin Cohee, Chairman and CEO of OneUnited Bank recently met with Harold Hambrick to discuss the mutually beneficial sponsorship agreement.

“As we busy ourselves with the mission of introducing black owned businesses to wider markets, we are extremely excited about OneUnited Bank joining with us in that mission,” said Hambrick.
